One of the basic ability that is also important to master English is vocabulary. By controlling vocabulary, it may increase the ability in other four skills. Based on Neuman and Dwyer (2009, p.385) stress this significant role through their definition of vocabulary as the words that enable us to "communicate effectively". Similar with the baby who learn her/his language through some vocabularies given by the parents. It is part of the crucial way that can attract babies or children to speak up and understand the language. Then, the problems are the effective methods used by the teacher in teaching English Vocabulary to the students and the difficulties faced by students in learning English Vocabulary?

The urgency of this research is the need of the students to increase their skill in English. Besides, it becomes the way to prove some methods which is good to be applied. Then, the product can be a tool to build knowledge in English learning. However, the researcher hopes it can make the students easy to understand more in reading course, easy to speak English, easy to write and easy to listen English Language.

2. Theoretical Framework

There are some researches, Indonesian and International learners of English, analyzing effective methods in teaching vocabulary. There are four previous studies dealing with the vocabulary teaching. They are Alizadeh Iman (2016), Sheridan Robert and Laura Markslag (2017), Hamdan Amani and Safa Al Ahmed (2018), Amalia Dhestia (2019). The research of Alizadeh Iman (2016) were discussing about vocabulary teaching technique with sub chapter a review of common practices. This review paper aims to provide a brief account of practices in vocabulary teaching and learning by focusing on the research on teaching words in context and out of context as well as incidental and intentional vocabulary learning.

Meanwhile, Sheridan Robert and Laura Markslag (2017) stated their research on engaging cooperative vocabulary card activities in teaching vocabulary. In this paper, the researcher describe how learner made vocabulary cards help students initially learn the lexical items found on the NGSL and other important special purpose vocabulary lists. Then, they present a variety of engaging cooperative learning activities that reinforce the learning of these lexical items, thereby overcoming the lack of recycling in most EFL textbooks. These exciting activities have been well received by learners across levels in a variety of EFL contexts.

Another research is from Hamdan Amani and Safa Al Ahmed (2018). They were talking about effective methods in teaching vocabulary in Saudi students, especially for woman. It resulted that students taught using the new methods of instruction had better vocabulary test scores than those taught using the traditional method. These methods have proven to be effective in improving students' vocabulary acquisition.

The last is from Amalia Dhestia (2019). Her research aimed to find out young learners' achievement in learning vocabulary, techniques that can be employed to young learners and techniques that can work for young learners. The finding of her research revealed that young learners' average score categorized very good in the age of 5,6 and 7 .

Considering the importance of vocabulary competence in learning English, the teacher should find the appropriate technique and strategy to teach vocabulary to young learners, so the classroom will be more alive and the learners more enthusiastic to study English. Based on Vossoughi (2009:1), Vocabulary is one element of language component that should be learn and taught. It is the tool we use think, to express feelings and ideas, and learn about the world is vocabulary. It is a basic knowledge to make a communication, and for the students to fulfill their knowledge and conversation which each other. It is a core component of language proficiency and provides much of the basis for how well learner speak, listen, read and write (Richards and Renandya, 2002:26). Vocabulary is a word or a sound which represents a certain meaning as an utterance unity.Vocabulary is the most important part in language learning.

Pasty (2006) states that for most people, the importance of vocabulary seems very clear. As it has often been remarked, we can communicate using words that are not placed in the correct order, pronounced perfectly, or marked with the appropriate grammatical morphemes, but communication often breaks down if we do not use the correct words. Although we can use gesture and circumlocution but the vocabulary is very important to use when we communicate. Vocabulary is the basic component to help the students in mastering language. They can learn the language skill easily if they have enough vocabulary. In any foreign language, learning vocabulary is one that is emphasized. Students have to develop their vocabulary. Because with developing a good vocabulary will help them to improve their ability in learning vocabulary. Many of the vocabulary in English textbook have to be learned. Without it no one can speak or understand the language. It means that people cannot write a word or make a sentence well, when they do not master it.

As Alemi and Tayebi (2012:1) states that vocabulary is the basis component of language proficiency which provides the basis for learners" performance in other skill, such as: speaking, reading, listening, and writing. The students who have good vocabulary mastery will have well in other skill and high score on achievement test than students who are lack of vocabulary.
